GB ① Selecting the right muzzle loop for your dog:

1. Take the dog's measurements with a tape measure at the positions shown. The muzzle loop should not be tight.
2. Place your forefinger under the tape measure to ensure enough space for your dog to be comfortable, do not tighten it.
3. Fit the selected muzzle loop on your dog. Check the fit by running your finger inside the snout band. Your dog must be able to pant and have free tongue movement.

Better a little too loose than too tight!

② Fitting the muzzle loop:

1. Place the muzzle loop over the dog's nose, making sure that it has a comfortable fit.
2. Bring the head straps behind the head and snap the buckle parts together. Make sure that the head straps are not twisted.
3. Pull the end of the strap to secure the muzzle loop. Do not overtighten.
